“ My big brother 😭 I miss you everyday even tho I couldn't see you much. But we got so close after my daughter ( your niece) was born. I'll always cherish the time I did get to spend with you I hate that your life was taken so soon. But God will be here last judgment and she will definitely get what is coming to her sooner than later. Espe talks about you everyday just about it. She holds the pic of you holding her that night you drive all the way to Birmingham at midnight to see your new born niece. I remember you called and said you didn't want to be home and felt like you had a lot of sorry for how as children we acted and how you treated me. You told me no matter how mean you was to me you loved me more than anything. And I. The pic of you and espe the way that new born baby was looking at you and smiling just melts my heart and breaks it. We love you so much bubby will you please tell my daddy that I miss him more and more everyday. Love you RIP 🥺😭💔
